DETAILED ACTION

Lack of Unity

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
2. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.
3. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 19-30, drawn to a preparation comprising Bifidobacterium breve and a mixture of at least two non-digestible soluble carbohydrate components A and B, wherein said carbohydrate component A has a different structure from said carbohydrate component B; said carbohydrate component A is present in an amount of 5 to 95% by weight of the sum of carbohydrate components A and B; at least 50% of the total non-digestible soluble carbohydrates is selected from disaccharides to eicosasaccharides; and carbohydrate components A and B differ in the average number of monosaccharide units, carbohydrate component A having an average chain length which is at least 5 monosaccharide units lower than the average chain length of component B.

Group II, claim(s) 31 and 37, a drawn to method of normalizing Bifidobacterium species composition in the gastro-intestinal tract of non- or partially breast-fed infants to that of the composition in breast-fed infants, comprising manufacturing a composition comprised of the preparation according to claim 19.

Group IV, claim(s) 32-34 and 36, drawn to a method for inhibiting the infiltration of eosinophils, neutrophils and mononuclear cells in allergic lesions, inhibiting a Th2 type immune response and/or stimulating the Th1-mediated immune response, comprising manufacturing a composition comprised of the preparation according to claim 19.

Group III, claim(s) 35, drawn to a method of preventing and/or treating energy malabsorption, comprising manufacturing a composition comprised of the preparation according to claim 19.

4. The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

5. The above groups lack a special technical feature because Cavaliere Vesely et al. (US 58646648) suggests Applicants' composition. Cavaliere teaches a composition comprising a mixture of Biidobacterium breve and two polysaccharides [fructooligosaccharides and galactooligosaccharides] (see column 4, lines 50-65). Applicants claimed weight range is so broad that any ordinary person would easily formulate a composition with a mixture of the two identified carbohydrates such that at least one carbohydrate component fell within a weight percent of between 5-95% based on the carbohydrate mixture. Therefore, Applicants inventions lack unity.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

7. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

8. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

9. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Election of species

10. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

11. The species are as follows:

A) Species of carbohydrates (identified as A and B; see instant claim 19)

12. The species of carbohydrates lack a special technical feature because the reference to Cavaliere Vesely et al. (US 58646648) suggests providing non-digestible soluble carbohydrates. Moreover, if an election were not required, a serious burden would be imposed on the Examiner.

13. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

14. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowed generic claim. Currently, the following claim(s) are generic: 19, 35, 36 and 37.

Rejoinder Notice

15. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

16. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Correction of Inventorship

17. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
